Glazener rips auditor hiring policy

Crossing that bridge

Dirt work on a Hunsley Road overpass on U.S. Highway 80-87 north of Canyon near the halfway mark to completion. Work on the overpass itself should begin in September and the entire $460,257 project should be completed late next spring or early next summer, according to Lewis R. "Tim" Loyd, resident engineer in Canyon with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The contract was awarded to Ivan Dement Inc. of Amarillo in May by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. Hunsley Road is Farm to Market Road 3331.

A Canyon accountant Monday scored the hiring of a part-time county auditor while county commissioners charged they got no co-operation from the district judges who did the hiring.

Bill Tirey was employed as county auditor by District Judges George Dowlen and Bryan Poff.

Commissioners Dee Griffin and Jim Fletcher, appointed by County Judge Woody Pond to work with the two judges, Monday told commissioners court they were ignored.

Judge Poff said Griffin and Fletcher approached him and Judge Dowlen with a plan to hire a combined auditor and county manager with aggregate compensation at a figure of $18,000 to $20,000 annually.

"This was constitutionally impossible," Judge Poff declared. An auditor for Randall County can draw no more than the tax assessor-collector. "They would have to pay Mrs. Bruse that much for it to be legal," the judge went on.

Poff said Tirey thought he would be able to do the job on about a two-thirds basis or in about 30 hours a week.

"We explained to him that if it took 40 hours or 80 hours a week he would have to do the job," Judge Poff declared. "It might take 20 hours some weeks and 80 hours others."

Tirey was hired at a figure of $12,960 a year. Judy Monk who has been working in the Potter County auditor's office was hired as his assistant at $700 a month.

Privately Judge Pond has favored Tirey but Griffin and Fletcher wanted to hire Jim Nugent, Amarillo tax assessor-collector, at $18,000 a year to act as both county manager and auditor. Nugent is not a certified public accountant.

The court subsequently hired Carroll Wilson as county manager.

Glazener maintained that the county auditor's job cannot be done in two or three days a week.

"Gentlemen," Glazener declared in a prepared statement, "If this job is done right, it cannot be done in two or three days per week. Granted, if Randall County is ordered to provide him an assistant, then less of the auditor's time will be required for routine bookkeeping, vouchering, etc., but there will still be requirements on the auditor's time for duties that can't be delegated due to their nature.

"As time passes, you and Mr. Tirey are going to find that his duties as county auditor are going to conflict with his private practice. Let us speculate as to which of his duties, public or private, will be slighted at some future date when your court meets and he is to deliver his annual report under Article 1665 and one of his clients is being examined by the Internal Revenue Service that day or one of his corporate clients has set their annual meeting for that day."

"I have been told there are offices and positions in Randall County where others are not devoting their full time and attention to their jobs or are just not doing their jobs. How effective can a part-time auditor on full time pay be in such a situation. Wouldn't these people be entitled to the same reasons for such activities (or lack of activities) as Mr. Tirey?"

There was a short discussion on the duties of the auditor and the county treasurer.

County Treasurer, Bob McClendon's office currently prepares and dispenses payroll checks.

"According to the law, the treasurer's office should make all checks and present them to the auditor and commissioners court for approval," declared Griffin.

McClendon said his office is doing all it is supposed to do and more.

"We can dispense all the Burglars early Sunday took a wall safe from Mr. Burger Drive in the 2300 Block of Fourth Avenue.

Police say the safe contained about $750.

Officers report that the safe was chipped out of the wall in which it had been set and hauled away. Thugs are believed to have entered the building by means of a key to the door or through a window. There was no evidence of forcible entry.

Police Chief Al Stewart said three suspects have been questioned in connection with the safe burglary.

New dress code in, long hair not a sin

The Canyon school board Tuesday night agreed to sell almost $3 million in school bonds, awarded a $1 million contract for construction of a new elementary school, and, without a whimper of dissent, threw out the long-standing restrictive dress code and adopted a new, more lenient one.

School construction bonds totalling $2,950,000 were sold to Republic National Bank of Dallas and associates for an effective interest rate of 5.185 percent over the next 15 years.

Cost of interest during that period will amount to $1,748,789.79.

The bonds will finance additions to the high school and construction of a new elementary school to be built at Sundown Lane between Canyon and Amarillo. Voters last spring turned down two bids for construction bonds before approving the $3 million issue.

The board opened five construction bids and awarded the school contract, subject to further board review, to Wiley Hicks, Jr., General Contractor for a low bid of $1,045,411 plus another $17,224 in alternate bids.

Former school superintendent Jerry Jacobs, who, with the sale of the bonds and the construction contract nearly wrapped up his duties here, told the board that the bonds and bids looked good to him.

The new student dress code was adopted to comply with the non-discrimination standards of Title IX, a federal funding authorization.

"Under Title IX we can't make a distinction between the standards for boys and girls and our old dress code did this," board president Tom Keeling said.

The new policy requires hair to be clean and out of the face. Beards and mustaches are forbidden.

Other provisions require students to wear shoes, cover their midriff, and button shirts or blouses. Shorts during class hours are forbidden, as are clothes with inappropriate or suggestive symbols, patches, or lettering.

Feathers ruffled as Sherrod talks

At dagger point with commissioners court since he initiated a grand jury investigation of that body, Randall County District Attorney Randall Sherrod told the court Monday they could not legally hire an attorney to sit with them during meetings.

Sherrod told members of the court they could hire an outside attorney only if they are sued.

The DA said he will have to hire another assistant if he is to provide a lawyer to sit through court meetings.

Sherrod coupled this information with what amounted to a plea for better pay for members of his legal staff.

He said his assistants already are overworked handling case loads a third larger than those

"to ask students to change their dress if it is of such a nature as to disrupt the maintenance of order, modesty and cleanliness."

The board also approved a statement of compliance with provisions of Title IX.

In other business, administrative assistant W. V. McAlpin told the board about 2,000 children will be bused to Canyon schools this year. Shuttle buses have been nearly eliminated, he said, with only one transfer at Gene Howe for high school and junior high students.

For the first time, Canyon buses will run into Timbercreek Canyon and the growth of the area around Washington Street is likely to demand an increase in service there, McAlpin said.

Two new buses totalling $29,500 have been ordered with delivery in November.

The board also approved teacher participation in a payroll savings bond plan, granted an easement to the Umbarger community water system, and set a date to tour campuses and amend the budget for Aug. 31.

Mrs. Johnnie Clement was approved to teach three health classes at the high school.

Hospital rate stable Grimes tells board

No increase in hospital charges were foreseen Monday night as Palo Duro Hospital manager reviewed the proposed operating budget for the district board.

The operating budget of $943,

072 is up about 20 percent over the current operating budget of $793,600, Grimes told the board.

He said the projected increase is based on anticipated growth. He stressed that the operating funds come from revenue and not from tax money. Tax money is used primarily to pay interest and retire bonds although some $19,000 was used for purchase of equipment during the past year.

Grimes told the board that his budget projection is based on 7300 patient days and 720 nursery days at $107 a day.

The $107 a day cost includes room and such services as medication and laboratory. Hospital room rates are $55 a day.

Grimes said the proposed operating budget includes $30,000 for an 8 percent cost of living and merit salary increases and $20,000 for new positions as volume increases.

Grimes said the biggest increase in operational expense has been in supplies and utilities. Bed occupancy has run about 45 percent.

Estimated revenues from taxes is $141,000 and estimated interest income is $2,500. Grimes said these revenues have not been used in operation of the hospital.

Property in the hospital district is taxed on the basis of 51 percent of actual value and on a tax rate of 28 cents per $100 valuation.

Public hearing on the budget is scheduled for Sept. 20.

Planners name LaGrone

Jerry LaGrone was selected Monday over about 50 applicants to be the coordinator of a regional alcoholism and drug abuse program.

George Louder, executive director of Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, said LaGrone was hired for the same reason all other PRPC employees are hired:

"Because I thought he was the best qualified."

LaGrone is presently in a work-release program as part of a two-year sentence for driving while intoxicated. He may work at his new job between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. but must return to the Randall County jail each night.

LaGrone is due to be released Oct. 27, assuming that he is granted time off for good behavior, Randall County Sheriff Cliff Longest said. If he is released then, LaGrone will have served a total of 16 months of a 24 months sentence.

LaGrone earlier worked at the Potter County Alcohol Recovery Center on a work-release arrangement but was returned to Randall County jail in May at the order of District Judge Bryan Poff, who ruled that the conditions of LaGrone's sentence had been violated.

He had been ordered to spend the first 12 months of his DWI sentence in jail but was placed on the work-release program before the first year was completed.

No guns likely

While it may be possible for an inmate of the Randall County jail to carry a hidden weapon into court here, it is unlikely, said Sheriff Cliff Longest.

"It's not impossible," he said. "But I sure don't think it will happen."

A Potter County jail inmate last week smuggled a home-made knife into 181st District Court. Charles Rumbaugh had been searched before he entered the courtroom for a hearing.

After a tip that Rumbaugh had a knife with him, deputies searched him again and found a steel blade taped beneath his overalls.

The knife appeared to have been made from a piece of metal used to line jail windows.

Tuesday, Longest said a revolving shake down plan of his jail inmates makes it unlikely anyone will have contraband articles. The cells are searched at random with no warning, he said.

"That pretty well keeps it cleaned out," Longest said.

Longest said the more serious threat to courtroom personnel was not from inmates.

"The people that they have to worry about are the ones out on bond."

Happy days near again

Festival time is nearing for Happy residents as they anticipate the coming week end's annual Happy Days Celebration.

Activities will kick off Friday night with a rodeo and a western dance to follow with music furnished by Tiny Lynn's band. The rodeo events will continue Saturday night with a dance following and Sunday afternoon's rodeo performances will be followed with an open steer roping.

Highlighting the Happy Days Celebration will be a full slate of activities on Saturday beginning with a parade themed "Spirit of America" at 10 a.m.

Following the parade kid games will be conducted at the park to entertain the youngsters with an old timers barbecue to be served at 11:30 a.m.

The public barbecue will be served at 12 noon followed by the awarding of parade prizes and various drawing prizes.

Tug of War games are set for the park at 1 p.m. with horseshoe pitching underway at 1:30 p.m.

A Little Britches Rodeo will be held at the Happy Rodeo Arena Saturday afternoon and Happy Artists will be holding their annual Flea Market and Art Show.

The community celebration, annually arranged under the sponsorship of the Happy Jaycees, will this year be dedicated to the memory of Inez Shipman.

While at PARC, LaGrone was paid by Potter County to serve as part of their alcohol education program.

Louder said in filling the post of coordinator vacated by Dr. Hal L. Rinker, he looked for someone who was familiar with the alcohol-drug abuse programs, who had been involved with the programs, who had experience and administrative ability.

LaGrone sees education as one of his most important duties.

"The primary need in my view is education on all levels," he said. "Alcoholism is probably the most devastating disease in the nation."

On the average, he said, one alcoholic affects at least 20 people.

"In my case, it affected several hundred," he said. "It's a family illness. That is what makes it so tragic."

The PRPC program coordinates the regional programs for dealing with alcoholism. A new program is now being formed from a recent study on alcoholism by eight Panhandle county judges.

Area judge held on DWI

Swisher County Judge Jack Lee Driskill of Tulia was arraigned here last week on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The 55-year-old judge was arrested shortly before midnight the night of August 5 just south of Spur 48 on 23rd Street in Canyon.

He spent the night in Randall County jail but was not arraigned until August 9 when Randall County Judge Woody Pond set his bond at $500.

Arresting Officer Glen Stocker in his incident report said Judge Driskill was driving erratically south in the north lane of 23rd Street. He said it was necessary to use the police car's siren to bring the Driskill vehicle to a halt.

Officer Stocker reported that Driskill almost fell when he got out of his car, required support and spoke with slurred speech.

The judge agreed to take a breathalyzer test and was recorded at .18, according to the police report.

Driskill entered a plea of not guilty at his arraignment.

Cops complete SWAT courses

Five Canyon policemen and three men from the Randall County Sheriff's Dept. completed SWAT training in Amarillo last week.

SWAT is slang for a team specially trained in assault tactics for situations involving hostages and others barricaded in buildings.

The abbreviation stands for "special weapons and tactics." Some law enforcement agencies refer to teams who have this type of training as special weapons assault teams.

The training sessions were conducted Monday through Thursday at the old Amarillo Air Force Base (now TSTI).

SWAT instructors from the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Dallas conducted the school.

Training included tactics, use of special weapons (such as tear gas guns), and rappelling. The Panhandle Regional Police Academy sponsored the sessions.

In regard to the training for Canyon policemen, Stewart commented, "Chances are we'll never have to use that (the special training), but it's best that we be prepared ... if the situation ever arises where we'd need it, we

Religion's psychology is new course at WT

A new course to be offered at West Texas State University this fall might present some new perspectives on an "old" topic.

The course is entitled "Psychology of Religion" and will be taught by Dr. Joseph Findley, associate professor of education and psychology.

Findley selected the paperback "The Religions of Man" by Houston Smith as the textbook for the class.

He said the course will include readings from seven of the world's major religions.

The class will read selections of scriptures from each religion in addition to the text.

In teaching the course, Findley hopes to present the positive values to be found in Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, Islam, Judaism and Christianity.

The relation of religion to psychology will be "based on Paul Tillich's view that religion represents ultimate concern," said Findley.

The course will be an attempt to "try to understand the values that are of greatest importance to the people identified with these religions."

Findley stressed that he would make every effort not to devalue other faiths and to try to help students develop a respect for others who are sincere in their religion.

He defined the course as "an attempt to understand behavior in terms of the basic assumptions of each religion."

Doctrines and how they affect the thinking of a religion's followers will be examined. The various religions will be compared for both similarities and major differences.

Findley will also try to "indicate why some religions are monotheistic, some polytheistic, and some 'atheistic.'"

The class will stress neither primitive religions nor current movements. The emphasis will be on "mainstream" thought in the seven belief systems.

Since all the religions have many denominational groups, Findley said he would not try to deal with denominations except to comment on the psychological reasons for the breakdown of religions into factions.

He summed up by commenting the course "will be an attempt to present sensitively and with respect various major religions in a way that, it is hoped, will promote general human good will."

"In a roundabout way, it's an attempt to help us try to understand more about human behavior."

Classes will be held Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 11 a.m. The course is psychology 49001. Regular fall registration is Aug. 27 and 28.

Students meeting the prerequisite requirement of three hours in general psychology will receive advanced credit for the course.

Anyone interested in enrolling who does not have credit for a previous course can audit the class on a non-credit basis.

City teens hospitalized

Three Canyon teenagers have been released from the hospital and one remains in critical condition from a one-car accident last Friday.

Texas Department of Public Safety trooper James Haley identified the passengers of the automobile as Kim Price, Mike Burkett, and Billy Crow, all of Canyon and Lisa Wright of Lake Tanglewood.

He said Brian Pratt of Canyon was driving the vehicle at the time of the mishap.

Burkett, Price, Wright, and Pratt were all treated at Palo Duro Hospital.

Wright suffered injuries to her collarbone. She was released Tuesday morning, according to hospital personnel.

Mrs. Bill Pratt said her son has been released and is recuperating at home. He is in a back brace.

Burkett and Price were both transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. The hospital confirmed that Burkett remains in intensive care.

Price, by her own report, is in good condition. She has a broken pelvis and a broken rib.

Crow had minor injuries and was not admitted to the hospital. The accident occurred about two miles north of Canyon on VFW road (2590) at 10:15 p.m. Friday night.

State trooper Jim Humphrey said the car ran through an intersection, across a ditch, and hit a high-line pole.

Birth announced

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Jolly became the parents of a girl August 10.

Jennifer Michelle Jolly weighed 6 pounds, 8 1/2 ounces at birth. She was born in Dumas.

Grandparents of the girl are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jolly of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Olivier of Amarillo.

IN MEMORY—A bronze plaque will hang in the Canyon High halls as a tribute to Gary Castleman, who died in a one-car roll-over just before his graduation. Money for the plaque and for $1,000 in scholarship funds at WT in Castleman's memory was raised this sum-

Trauma begins early

Next week, thousands of six and seven-year olds will be moving into the first grade in panhandle-area public schools. West Texas State University psychology professor Dr. Gary Guyot warns that it could well be one of the most traumatic times in the youngster's pre-adult life.

Dr. Guyot says "the kindergarten process is set up to gradually introduce the child into the school situation. That involves being away from home for more than a couple of hours at a time; and being away from mother, which in normal development they should be able to handle. And, their learning the teacher's role and — perhaps most importantly — how to sit still for a period of time. I think," Dr. Guyot says, "the whole thing is set up to really introduce the child to what the first grade is going to be like."

But, when that first day in the first grade comes, Dr. Guyot says, the parent should be ready to see some rather drastic changes taking place in their child.

"The changes you'll see taking place," he says, "come out of the environmental conditions. It is a time for the child when there are many, many expectations made on him from a cultural standpoint, from a family standpoint, from a peer standpoint and from the teacher's perspective."

"So," Dr. Guyot observes, "he's away from home for a long period of time; probably for the longest he has been for many days in succession, and he's expected to compete with other children, which is his first major introduction to the free enterprise process." That sort of thing, plus getting involved in tightly-knit peer groups for the first time add up to a lot of subtle and not-so-subtle stress, Dr. Guyot says.

Dr. Guyot says that if the child "has not had a good teacher with the parent — who is the first teacher — then there are probably some negative reactions. It's going to be very difficult for them to cope with this situation."

What can the parent do to cope with the traumas and help the child through the first difficult days? "Often," Gary Guyot says, "it's as traumatic for the mother and father as for the child. If, for instance, the mother is apprehensive about the child going through the new situation, then the child will reflect that apprehension."

"What we suggest," he says, "is to lay lots of good groundwork between ages ten and eighteen months. We've found out that a lot of the abilities and weaknesses are developed in that time period. It's difficult to make the child socially and educationally viable if he's not had the discipline as an infant and in early childhood."

"A good clue," Dr. Guyot says, "is the way the parent — the first teacher — handles the inquiries of the young child. If the parent is open and honest about answers to sincere questions and makes an effort to draw the child out in conversation concerning learning experiences, then there'll be few problems ahead."

Back-to-school events planned by UCM sponsors

United Campus Ministry will be sponsoring several back to school events next week for students returning to West Texas State University.

The UCM is a ministry representing the Disciples of Christ, Episcopal, Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic congregations of Canyon. Regular meetings are held at the Methodist University Center and the Episcopal University Center throughout the school year.

Back to school events next week will include a watermelon feast at the Methodist Center on Tuesday, Aug. 24, beginning at 6 o'clock; a games night on Wednesday, Aug. 25, beginning at 6 p.m. in the Methodist Center; and a back to school cookout in the Palo Duro Canyon on Thursday, Aug. 26, with the group leaving from the Methodist Center at 6 p.m.

Other events of the UCM for the week include a registration luncheon in the WT Activities Center at 11 a.m. on Aug. 27; a supper and discussion at the Episcopal Center Sunday evening, Aug. 29, beginning at 5 p.m.; and a faculty brown bag luncheon at the Episcopal Center on Monday, Aug. 30, at 12 noon.

EMS coordinator to give program

Betty O'Rourke, emergency medical systems coordinator for the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, will be presenting the program for Heritage Woman's Clubs' first meeting this fall.

The guest speaker will discuss Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation at the meeting August 30 at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in the home of Marion Marrs at 5303 Pico Drive, Amarillo.

Open minded persons suitable as counsellors

"It's obvious to us that an open-minded person is the type of person that's needed to be a counsellor. You can't be making value judgments about other people and be an effective counsellor." That's the philosophy on which West Texas State University education graduate assistant Chuck Holley bases the need for "The Personal Synergism Inventory."

In simpler terms, the inventory is a test to determine the open or close-mindedness of a student. Holley has evolved the test over the past year with the help of Dr. Jack Nance the University's director of human relations students.

"The research I've read on the subject," Holley says, "seems to imply that a liberal person is naturally open-minded while a person of conservative persuasion is just the opposite. I don't think it's that simple."

Holley and Dr. Nance have a 180 question test they can place before a student who might go into the counselling field. The test goes much deeper than probing the liberalism of conservatism of the test subject.

"To begin with," Chuck Holley says, "we suspect that a close-minded person uses all of the various defense mechanisms to protect his close-mindedness. If you challenge that person in an area in which he is prejudiced, he's going to bring all these defense mechanisms to focus and he's probably not going to hear you."

In order to determine where the close-minded person's defensive areas lie, Nance and Holley have selected 180 questions that probe such areas as political beliefs, religious feelings, ideas about minorities, view of authority, Chauvinistic impulses and adherence to superstition.

There are actually only 90 basic questions, but each one is stated positively and negatively, giving the evaluator a chance to check the sincerity with which the student is taking the test.

Chuck Holley says that "the results of the inventory seem to tell you where you can communicate with a person. For instance: if a person is open-minded on religion but closed on his view of authority, you can approach him through his religious beliefs in order to determine why he's so narrow on his view of authority."

Holley says that, as far as he is concerned, the terms "liberal" and "conservative" are probably no longer valid labels to put on our fellow men. "It seems to me," he says, "that we've got to look at people now in terms of being traditionalists in some areas and progressives in others."

Kids, Inc. signups are on Saturday

Sign-ups for Kids, Inc. activities will be conducted Saturday, August 21, for students in grades 1-6.

Sign-ups will be taken from 9 a.m. until 12 noon at the front table in Byrd's Pharmacy. Parents must attend the sign-up session to sign permission slips for student participation.

Terry Clark serves as Canyon's round-up manager for Kids, Inc. activities which include flag football, contact football and this year will include a cheerleading section.

Flag football events are open to both boys and girls in first grade through third grade.

Boys in fourth through sixth grade may participate in the contact football events while girls in fourth through sixth grades are eligible for the cheerleading squad.

Mothers are needed to serve as sponsors for the girls' cheerleading squad. A good number of coaches have already offered their services for the contact league, however, coaches are needed to serve for the flag football division. More coaches may be needed following the sign-ups if additional teams are warranted.

Budget hearing went well

The state budget advisory committee was receptive to the presentation of West Texas State University's next biennial budget, said financial vice-president Hermas Miller.

But, as usual, he said, the official line seems to be to hold down expenses.

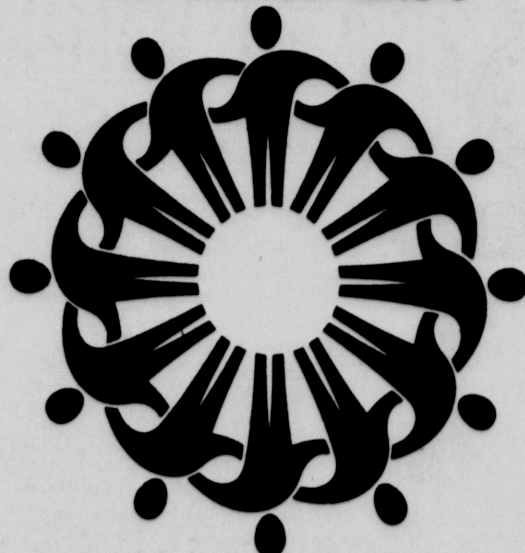

Still, WT's contacts with the legislature are excellent, he said. "We will continue to make contact with the committees throughout this session of the legislature," Miller said.

WTU President Dr. Lloyd Watkins, academic vice-president Dr. Ray Malzahn and Miller presented the request for $31,108,973 over the next two years to the legislative budget committee last week in Austin.

Their request includes a $4 million building program to renovate the campus utility system. Funding asked for the first year is $17,137,976 and $13,970,997 for the second.

Elderly have needs

Volunteers and money are the two greatest needs of the elderly who live in nursing homes, said a Canyon medical social worker.

"We have so many people who are just left in nursing homes. Volunteers are what we need more than anything else," Jim Couzzourt, said. "Volunteers coming in and talking for just 30 minutes works a social miracle."

Couzzourt supervises the nursing home care given to Medicaid patients throughout the Panhandle region. Although he has his office in Canyon, few of his clients are from Randall County. Medicaid is a federal and state program that supplements the cost of nursing and medical care of the elderly.

"The second greatest need of patients is money," Couzzourt stated.

An elderly person cannot have a monthly income greater than $438 a month and qualify for Medicaid. In addition, the patient gives up all but $25 a month of whatever income he has. This is paid directly to the nursing home and Medicaid pays the remainder.

"The $25 we allow them doesn't go very far," Couzzourt said. Three prescriptions a month are paid for by Medicaid but additional medicine must be purchased with the patient's personal allotment.

"We use the United Way and the Empty Stomach Fund. Thank God it's there. Otherwise our people would have nothing," he said.

In addition to qualifying financially for the program, Couzzourt explained, a client must have a medical need for nursing care. This is sometimes difficult to explain to families who are anxious to have an elderly relative enter a nursing home, he said.

Recently, Couzzourt said, the emphasis has been on finding alternatives to nursing home care. Some patients removed from their home to a nursing home feel deserted and uprooted. Social factors weigh heavily in the high rate of premature deaths of the elderly, Couzzourt noted.

Alternatives to nursing home care saves money also, he said. It costs from $400 to $600 a month to keep someone in a nursing home.

"If we can keep them out of a nursing home and hire a provider for $200 a month, we save a tremendous amount of money," he said.

In charge of providing alternative care in the Panhandle is David Melber, also headquartered in the welfare office in the Randall County courthouse.

Foster homes for the elderly is receiving attention from the upper echelon of social welfare workers, Melber said.

But there are presently no foster homes for the aged in this part of the state, and the social workers in the field are so burdened with their case load that they haven't had time to try to arrange for homes.

"The only way to get them to go speak to churches, civic clubs and things, tell them about the program and get volunteers," said Melber.

A more common alternative to nursing home care is to hire a provider for home care, he said.

Melber supervises two home care cases in Canyon and expects to add several more in the next few weeks. But most of his cases are located elsewhere in the Panhandle.

In home care, a worker is hired to provide whatever assistance an elderly person needs to be able to stay in their own home. This may be cooking, house cleaning or doing laundry. In some few cases, the family supplements the aid to the aged payments and provides a 24-hour housekeeper, Melber said.

Melber said he was surprised recently by a survey he and other social workers in the Panhandle took among elderly persons who receive supplemental social security payments.

"The elderly aren't as lonely as we thought," he said. Many of them have daily contact with friends or family.

"We found out there seem to be more elderly who prefer to live alone, more than I thought," he said.

"This is partly a brainwashing from 20th century emphasis on individual rights and the nuclear family."

"The elderly feel like they are imposing when their children have to care for them. But there is no thought given of the children having imposed on their parents during their childhood. There is no reciprocity," he said.

In addition, Melber provides information and referral to other agencies, and protective services for elderly persons who are victimized or exploited by others.

Cancer meet set for fall

An area American Cancer Society basic orientation session is planned for three nights in October and will be conducted in Canyon Community Center, according to Mary Alice Hines.

The three night orientation will include a discussion on volunteers and volunteer services offered through the American Cancer Society; and in-depth discussion on cancer with a panel of informed doctors; and services available to patients who are eligible for aid.

Next meeting of the Randall County unit of the American Cancer Society will be held Sept. 16. On Aug. 26, Mrs. Hines and others will be giving an informative program about cancer on the Channel 4 program "Let's Talk About It."

4-H record books win

We want to congratulate the following 4-H members on their accomplishments with their record books. These records were judged in Amarillo on Aug. 17, 1976 by all of the Extension Agents in District 1.

Seniors:
Shawn Hall; Automotive — Blue Ribbon; Greg Henders; Swine — White Ribbon; Debbie Hales; Clothing — Red Ribbon; David Hall; Poultry — Red Ribbon.

Juniors:
Mary Jo Turpin; Foods & Nutrition — Red Ribbon; Jody Detten; Sheep — Red Ribbon; Lisa Detten; Clothing — Blue Ribbon; Donnie Trammell; Beef — Red Ribbon; Kristy White; Horse — Red Ribbon.

These members' records were judged against 18 other counties in this district.

Congratulations to everybody that turned in a record. You all did a fine job.

Cystic fibrosis poster child is granddaughter of residents

Angelique Blasingame, an alert four-year-old in Farmington, New Mexico, has been selected as New Mexico's 1976 Cystic Fibrosis Poster Child.

Angelique, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Blasingame of Farmington, is the great granddaughter of three Canyon residents: Mrs. L.T. Campbell and Felix and Tommie Pierce.

Angelique was diagnosed as a victim of Cystic Fibrosis at the age of 18 months. It was first believed that she was suffering from viral pneumonia, but later tests confirmed the suspicions of an alert physician and the little girl was flown to Phoenix, Arizona for treatment there.

At first acquaintance Angelique appears healthy and normal, but for Angelique and her parents a portion of each day is used for necessary therapy. One hour each morning and another hour each evening is required for Angelique to be tilted head down while her mother or father briskly and expertly tap her back to help loosen mucous plugs which impede her respiration. This technique is called postural drainage and is commonly administered to C/F children whose lungs are affected by the disease. As Cystic Fibrosis attacks either the digestive tract or the respiratory system — or both — other methods of relief are used as well.

With each meal, Angelique must swallow twelve Cotazym tablets — a medication to aid digestion and three times daily she must take antibiotics to ward off infection.

C/F children are particularly susceptible to respiratory infection and have difficulty in overcoming disease. Once a child is placed on antibiotics, the program cannot be discontinued and as the tolerance to medication builds — the dosage must also be increased.

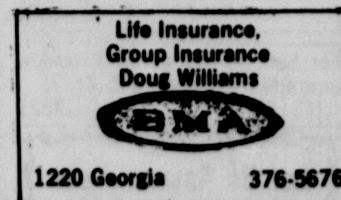

Angelique receives a multi-vitamin and mineral supplement twice the strength of a normal adult dosage. She also uses a mist inhalant to facilitate breathing and administers this herself.

In addition to Angelique's affliction, the Blasingame family includes a younger brother, Justin, age 2, who is also a victim of Cystic Fibrosis.

At the time of Angelique's diagnosis, Mrs. Blasingame was pregnant with her second child and just six months after his birth it was confirmed that he also was afflicted with the disease.

Cystic Fibrosis is a genetic disease, and although the Blasingame's have researched their family histories, there are no other known relatives who have had the disease.

Chief reports on Juvenile crime

By Alan R. Stewart, Chief of Police

Looking at national crime statistics it would seem people don't have as much to fear from the hardened criminal as from the juvenile, and young adult.

Sixteen year olds head the list for those arrested for seven of the FBI's index crimes. Following are 17-year-olds, 18-year-olds and 15-year-olds respectively. Approximately half of all arrests, including burglary, larceny and auto theft, are people under the age of 18. The cost of crime committed by juveniles each year is in the billions of dollars!

In this area these national figures do not always hold true, but the possibility of achieving the national averages is apparent, if we do nothing to reduce the growth in juvenile offenses. Police, parents, and other adults as well, must put forth more effort toward improving teen behavior and attitudes. Here are some suggestions:

1. Make it a point to know your children's friends better.
2. Know where your teen is at night, every night. Check to see that the youngster goes where he says he's going occasionally. Don't be hindered by the thinking "it's not right to spy." It is your right to check on your teen; you are or should be concerned for his welfare, and responsible for his misdeeds!
3. Adhere to the rules you have set. If violated and unpunished, all rules then become a joke.

While most teens are "good", there is a number who are belligerent, sarcastic, arrogant, with no respect for authority of any kind. These are the most likely to wind up in trouble with authorities. Some adverse attitudes seemingly accompany the growing years and if parents allow these negatives to continue and prevail, when the youngster reaches late teen years there is little probability of change.

Today, little is heard about what used to be termed the "generation gap." Yet, by whatever term you give it, the problem is still there, and parents use it as the reason for loss of contact and control. But more than this, the basis for problems with teens now still seems to be in the fallacies of permissiveness, allowing overindulgence, doing their own thing.

How can a parent huffly practices previously thought to be effective child raising, when all that has gone before is proved without doubt to be wrong? One way: assume active control of household government, including strong assertive direction and guidance in the matter of teen activities!

If your teen is picked up by a law enforcement officer, don't get your back up. Go down, when requested, and hear the charges before forming an opinion. Too many parents assume the attitude that law enforcement is the culprit. This accomplishes nothing and adds to an already unpleasant situation. Never let your youngster believe you feel he's being "picked on." As an adult, you know this is not possible. Your display of such an attitude subliminally gives the youngster the green light and incentive to continue to disregard rules of the home and laws of the community. However, this does not mean you abandon him in an unpleasant situation.

In weeks to come I will attempt to explain procedure and methods the Police Department utilizes to prevent serious trouble.

Churchwomen's coffee is set

A "friendship coffee" for all women of First Presbyterian Church will be held Saturday, Aug. 28, beginning at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Sidney Burgess, 1402 Creekside.

Sponsored by the Women's Association of the church, the coffee is designed to provide an informal occasion for the beginning of the new church year and will be a get acquainted event.

Agent's month will be busy

September will be a busy month for home demonstration county extension agent, Becky Hall, who will be presenting the HD club program titled "Fall Fashion Trends" to each HD club of the county.

Also slated in September will be the Texas Home Demonstration Association's state meetings to be held at College Station and local representation at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

Upcoming for the public will be a Creative Arts Workshop being sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration Council and arranged for by Becky Hall, county extension agent. The workshop will include a variety of crafts instruction sessions.

Hey! Summer Hasn't Ended Still Conducting Our "Sizzler" Contest!!

—RULES OF THE "Sizzler" CONTEST—

ENTRIES:

1. Anyone can enter except the employees of the First National Bank in Canyon and their families. There is nothing to buy. You do not have to be a depositor at this bank. However, if you have a checking account at this bank 24 hours before the time the temperature reaches 100 degrees the Bank will double your prize if you win.
2. All entries must be received in the bank, giving your estimate of the day and minute the temperature will first hit 100 degrees this summer according to our Time and Temperature clock. Writing must be legible. Entry must bear sender's name and address.
3. You may enter as many times as you wish, but each estimate must be on a separate entry card.
4. Entries must be received at least 24 hours prior to the time estimated for the first 100 degrees.

5. In the event of a tie, the prize will go to the entry received the earliest.

6. The First National Bank is not responsible for entries which are lost in the mails or misplaced.

It's Fun-It's Easy

JUDGING:

1. Official source for the minute when the temperature first reaches 100 degrees in Canyon for the purpose of the Sizzler will be the First National's time-temperature clock on the corner of Fourth and Fourteenth Street.
2. The clock has been wired to stop when the temperature reaches 100 degrees on the clock's thermometer. The clock will continue to flash the minute 100 degrees was attained, until the bank officials have it recalibrated.

3. Judges will be the officials of the First National Bank. Their decision shall be final.

4. The contest will close when the temperature reaches 100 degrees, as certified by the judges.

5. In event the clock is declared out of commission by the bank officials the temperature readings will be ineffective during the time the clock is undergoing repairing. The bank will not be responsible for any cause of the sign not operating properly.

6. If the Sizzler temperature does not reach 100 degrees before Labor Day, the contest will end on Labor Day and the prizes will be awarded on the basis of the highest temperature reached based on the Canyon Fire Department weather records.

Sherrod. . .

handled by their counterparts in Potter County.

He pointed out that the annual case load per attorney here comes to 218 while in Potter County it comes to only 154.

Sherrod says he thinks it would be good if one of his staff could sit in on meetings. "It would keep us out of a lot of hot water," he declared.

"But we're overloaded," he went on. "We're two years behind in trying justice of the peace jury cases including such misdemeanor cases as traffic tickets."

"We're just several hundred cases behind and it would take a month to clear them up. We don't have a month to spare."

"If the commissioners want our advice as they have indicated, that entails a lot of work," the district attorney went on. Five minutes of advice might entail two days of research."

Sherrod currently draws $2,041 per month. His first assistant, Rick Wilcox, draws $1,235 and Dean Roper $1,125. Jim Blair is employed part-time to handle delinquent taxes at $530 per month.

For the new budget Sherrod is asking for $28,000 for himself; $17,500 for Wilcox; $14,500 for Roper; $6,865 for Blair and $12,900 for Hooks.

checks if you give me enough help," he declared.

"Here we have an auditor and a treasurer and both of them are already asking for more help," said Griffin somewhat plaintively. "We're going to wind up spending more money than we tried to save in the first place. We might better just leave well enough alone."

"Maybe we don't realize we're getting so big we maybe just need some extra help," asserted Commissioner John Fulgenzi.

Assistant District Attorney Rick Wilcox prepared copies of the statute outlining duties of both the auditor and the treasurer.

McClendon and Tiley agreed to work together in co-relating the duties of their offices.

Wilcox told the court he would prepare a contract under which the court legally can provide $7,500 for Kids, Inc.

Cross country team practices

The West Texas State University cross country team will begin practice for the 1976 season on August 22.

Coach Bob Kitchens said, "This should be our best cross country team we've ever had. In the past we have had one great runner and the second, third, fourth and fifth have been mediocre. This year the top four should be solid, but I don't know about the fifth man."

The top runner for the harriers should be Joseph Kemei from Eldoret, Kenya who Kitchens says is "one of the top runners in the country." The second runner for WT is John Chemarango who comes from Cheboy, Kenya. Running third is Burt Torres from Amarillo Caprock.

Gabriel Boit, who went to high school with Kemei, is the fourth runner. Kitchens said that Boit has the talent, but has never ran cross country before.

The fifth runner can come from several people, said Kitchens. The possibilities include Gary Thomas from Amarillo Palo Duro, Jay Jones of Floydada and Larry Lane from Depew, New York.

Coach Kitchens is optimistic about the team's chances in the Valley meet which will be in Peoria, Illinois on Nov. 6. West Texas State finished fifth last year, but with some strong individuals along with Kemei, Kitchens feels his team can finish in the top three. He pointed out that Wichita State should be the team to beat.

WT is entered in six meets this season that will send them to Plainview, Lubbock, Portales, New Mexico, Peoria, Illinois as well as a meet of their own in Canyon.

The first meet is scheduled for Sept. 16 at the Wayland Invitational in Plainview.

Miss Cindy Brooks

Miss Canyon is runnerup for pageant

Miss Cindy Brooks of Canyon was named second runnerup at Pampa in the Miss Top of Texas Pageant on Friday, Aug. 13, and will be representing Canyon in the Miss Wheatheart of the Nation pageant Saturday night at Perryton.

Miss Brooks, daughter of Sandra and Don McRoberts of 1207 Brookhaven, was crowned as Miss Canyon 1976 during early April. She is sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and Canyon Study Club as she represents the city in various capacities throughout the year. She is a junior at Canyon High School.

pate in extension of water and sewer mains to the new school.

However, Amarillo did agree to extend the time for refunds for connections to begin after the area is annexed and to allow payments to be made on a monthly progress basis during construction.

The school board expects to recover much of the estimated $76,000 cost for oversized mains by later connection fees.

Fine Arts building at university is under construction.

School boards are enmeshed in tangle of federal regulations

The Canyon school board and the Randall County school board have become enmeshed in a tangle of federal regulations they didn't even know existed.

The two boards met Wednesday morning to discuss future de-annexation from the Canyon Independent School District.

After an extensive review by Jerry Jacobs, former school superintendent here, of the history of the de-annexation issue, the board's financial advisor told them that no annexation or de-annexation can be done without the specific approval of the Justice Department in Washington.

This means the two de-annexations already approved by Amarillo and Potter County boards are not yet effective, said Bob Davis, bond advisor of the Underwood Newhouse financial firm in Dallas.

CISD officials knew that the bonds must have federal approval but didn't know until last night that the territorial rearrangements must also be approved.

Davis got the word from Dallas attorney, Elbert Morrow, who Davis considers an expert in interpreting federal requirements.

The bond sales and de-annexation both come under the civil rights legislation. Before any change in existing school boundaries can be made, the change must be approved either by the U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C. or by the U.S. Attorney General's office, Davis told them.

Davis told the boards that the de-annexations already approved here can be presented to the Justice Department in a few days when the bond presentation is made.

However, two petitions waiting action now are similarly affected. A section at 34th and Coulter and a half section bounding on Estacado Estates are named in the two pending petitions.

Both the CISD and Randall County officials finally decided that the developers requesting the de-annexation will be asked to get federal clearance before the petitions are further considered. The County Board was to check with Morrow on precedents.

As for de-annexation in general, the boards appeared divided. The majority of the CISD board seemed willing to consider de-annexation, but the County Board appeared to oppose it.

Ron Boyd of the County Board said, "As I see it, you're just giving away money."

Years earlier, in the original petition to de-annex, the CISD board rejected de-annexation and the County Board approved it. The CISD board appealed the decision and lost.

At the beginning of the meeting, vocational agriculture teachers presented a plaque of appreciation as an outstanding school administrator to Jacobs. Presenting the award were Lee Moore, Richard Porter and Ronnie Hargrove.

Baylor Bears have local player

Bill Moore, a 1973 graduate of Canyon High School and a member of the Eagle football team is preparing for his third year as the starting punter for the Baylor Bears of the Southwest Conference.

Bill said that he has to report to Baylor on August 17 for fall workouts, but he is going down a few days early to get use to the weather. He said that the weather at Waco was more humid than it is here and it seems to take something out of you if you aren't used to it.

Following Bill's senior year, he was offered a full four year scholarship by the Bears which he said that he wasted no time in signing. He said, "My brother Joe played for Baylor from 1967-1970 and that's where I've always wanted to go. So when I was offered an scholarship, that's where I went."

Though he wasn't interested in attending any other schools, Bill said that he had offers from all of the Southwest Conference schools in addition to places like Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, New Mexico and New Mexico State.

Bill is very optimistic about the Bears chances for a successful team this season. He said, "last year we were 3-6-2 and we had a lot of injuries and turnovers. But I think our chances are real good of having a good season this year. Last spring, we seemed to have alleviated our turnover problems."

Texas, Arkansas, Texas A&M and Baylor have been tabbed as the top teams in the conference, but Bill says that he won't be satisfied coming in fourth. He anticipates better things for Baylor this year.

Bill said, "my biggest thrill was when we won the Southwest Conference championship my sophomore year. It was something being the punter and knowing that I helped out."

Another highlight of Bill's career was last year when the Bears played against the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in front of 104,000 people. It was the fourth largest crowd ever to see a NCAA game. Michigan was nationally ranked but the Bears tied them 14-14.

When Bill was a freshman he played wingback as well as punting and kicking for the freshman team. The next year, he was third team wingback on the varsity behind two seniors. He said that he became the starting punter that year, so he wasn't used anymore as a wingback.

Bill, who averages 38 yards a kick for the Bears, says that he would like to give a try at playing pro football if the chance came. However, he said that he would let time take care of that as his primary concern right now is about the upcoming season at Baylor.

Bill is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Moore of #11 Southridge Drive.

Well spacing is approved

Canyon city commission Monday night approved a High Plains Water Conservation District recommendation that wells be set back 150 feet from the owner's property line.

Regulations call for spacing wells at least 300 feet apart. City Manager Glen Metcalf explained that if a property owner placed a well on his property line the adjacent owner would be required to move back 300 feet to sink another well.

The commission authorized Metcalf to contact property owners in the area in an effort to work out the 150 foot offset plan.

In other business, the commission authorized the city manager to advertise for bids for two new police cars.

Dress code will comply

In order to comply with Title IX, the administration recommends the following dress code:

STUDENT DRESS CODE

Hair must be styled out of the eyes and must be clean. There will be no beards or mustaches. It must also comply with school health standards so as not to be detrimental to the health and safety of the individual or to others.

All standard footwear is acceptable and must be worn during school hours.

Shorts are unacceptable attire to be worn during regular academic classes.

The entire midriff must be covered. Shirts and blouses must be buttoned appropriately.

Clothing with inappropriate or suggestive symbols, patches, or lettering cannot be worn.

The school has the right to ask students to change their dress if it is of such nature as to disrupt the maintenance of order, modesty, and cleanliness. Individuals who try to attract attention by dressing in an irregular and/or unconventional manner are inviting criticism that may damage the reputation of the students of Canyon.

Boys or girls who repeatedly disregard rules on grooming or dress are guilty of insubordination and will be subject to disciplinary action.

PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYEE DRESS CODE

Professional employees of the Canyon Independent School District should recognize the importance of projecting via appearance a favorable public image commensurate with the individual assignment of each member. Professionalism embraces good tastes of dress and neatness in grooming habits, avoiding extremes which might directly or indirectly constitute a disruptive influence in the classroom. These qualities are expected to be inherent in dress and grooming habits of each professional employee of this district.

Furthermore, the professional employee dress code will exceed standards of dress currently in effect for students and will be consistent with the student grooming guidelines.

Drying summer herbs adds spice to meals

Homemakers can obtain finest herb flavor by drying herb leaves rapidly in a well-ventilated, dry, dark room, with stems tied in bundles. Mrs. Becky Hall, County Extension Agent, says.

Rapid drying away from light is especially important for the tender-leaf herbs — basil, tarragon, mint and parsley. This helps hold their color and flavor and prevents molding.

Less succulent leaf herbs such as sage, rosemary, thyme and summer savory contain less moisture and can be partially dried in the sun without affecting their flavor, she said.

To prepare for drying, cut stems two or three inches from tip. If leaves are gritty or dusty, wash in cold water and drain thoroughly. Tie the twigs in bunches and hang to dry — or spread them thinly over a screen in a dark airy place.

As soon as the leaves are thoroughly dry, separate them from the stems and pack in tight containers away from air. This prevents loss of the essential oils that give flavor and fragrance.

Tight tin cans, sealed waxed cardboard containers or glass jars may be used. But glass jars should be painted black, wrapped in dark paper or stored in a dark place to keep the herbs from losing color.

For drying small quantities of parsley, celery tops and mint, dip the stem and leaves quickly into boiling salted water, shake them dry and spread on racks in a cool oven. When thoroughly dried, they may be powdered and stored in covered glass jars.

Two final thoughts for best results in herb drying:

— young leaves at the tip of stems have more flavor than larger, older leaves.

— the ideal time for gathering is when the plant begins to flower.

Gene News

Families are home

BY FARRIS ANN MORRISON
SCHOOL HAS BEGUN — the summer went much too quickly. I hope you all have something pleasant to look back on; however, we have many exciting things to look forward to as well.

Especially do we welcome our newcomers and invite them to take an active part in Gene Howe. There is always something going on that parents can participate in.

Two opportunities are open right now: PTA and the Falcon Fan Club. If you didn't sign up at registration, do so now because we need you.

HERE ARE SOME of our newcomers; if you know of them, get them involved in our school. There's no better way for them to feel at home!

Linda Sumner moved to our area from Amarillo with her daughter Amy, a second grader. Linda teaches at Caprock; she's a girl's volleyball coach, and teaches PE, Health and maybe English too.

Norman and Adele Robbs came to us only a month ago from Wellington, Colorado. They have a first grader, Kathy. Norman works for the Triplett Farms, while Adele is looking forward to being involved with Gene Howe. Last year she was a room mother so teachers take note!

Larry and Linda Moyers are also former Amarillo residents. He's with SIC, she's an administrative technician with the State Comptroller's office. Their daughter, Jamie will be in the fourth grade. We'll be introducing other new families next week.

ALTON AND BETTY Stokes had a very bad experience and a very good experience. Along with Alton's parents, Clayton and Alene Stokes of Pampa, and his aunt, Maxine Stokes of Plainview, the family spent four days in Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Of course, they saw the caverns and the clouds of bats emerging at dusk. The Stokes have three boys: Tim, 14, Stephen, 12, and Danny 2½.

The bad experience involved Danny, who fell and drove three of his front teeth back where they came from. He is fine now, but because of the accident, a good experience resulted.

Betty said the people in Carlsbad could not have been nicer. The dentist, with a full of fice, held a chair for them and did a super job fixing him up. The motel managers gave them every help they could in order that Danny could be treated quickly. It's really encouraging to know that people still care.

Betty said all in all they had a lovely vacation and will try it again next year.

MARGIE PHILLIPS HAS been gone a greater part of the summer. In June she attended a music workshop in Alamosa, Colo. We both agreed that while Alamosa was pretty bleak, it is close to some lovely mountains where they picnicked after "school" was over. June 15, she and Bill (her husband) were in Brownsville for the postal convention.

Next, to Creed, Colo. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F.C. Croford to fish for ten days. After being home for two whole weeks, the Phillips went with friends to Dallas for the Gospel Music Festival.

Finally last week they helped their daughter and her husband, Marla and Mike Shadix move to Oklahoma City. Soon to be a wedding that will give Margie and Bill a daughter-in-law.

ANITA HARP'S HUSBAND, Duane graduated this summer from WT with a degree in Finance. He works at American National Bank in the bank's officer training program.

PORTIA TILLINGHAST, HUSBAND Jack, and their children, Monte, 13, Lonnie, 11, and Kim, 8 did a lot of raft, kayak, and canoe river runs this summer. They spent three days in Big Bend with canoes, then five days on the San Juan near Four Corners with all three types of craft.

Jack and the boys are now in Utah challenging the Green River through Gray and Desolation Canyons.

The Tillinghasts organize and supervise river runs for any interested persons. The advertising is mostly word-of-mouth, but they hope to have a brochure soon. Sounds like fun!

MIKE AND ALICIA Niemeier, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Temple Abney of Texline were in Calif. (San Clemente) where Alicia's uncle, Ancil Swagerty has a furniture shop.

Mike will be doing that soon. I guess I should tell you what "that" is: the building and finishing of custom furniture.

The Niemeier's are especially fond of the Mexican Colonial style, my favorite, too.

NEXT WEEK I'LL have a school report and maybe some more teachers who have done exciting things this summer. Enjoy your week.

Picnic outing held by group

The Randall Longhorns held a picnic in Palo Duro Canyon State Park on Thursday evening, August 5, which was designed as a family outing with games, creek wading and a brief time of dancing in the park.

Club members attending were Ranger Thornton, Randy Deckard, Mary Jo Turpin, Chris Trammell, Donnie Trammell, Jody Detten, Debbie Detten, Lisa Detten, Becky Detten, Eddy Vance and Greg Maples.

Adults at the picnic outing were Mr. and Mrs. Dale L. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. R.K. Deckard, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Turpin, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Trammell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Detten, Mr. Gordon Whipple, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vance.

Visitors for the outing were Jenny Trammell, Susie Detten, Amy Detten, Randall Whipple, Buddy Vance and Shawn Vance.

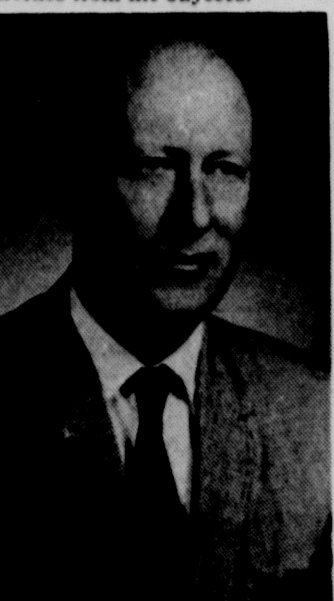

Boyce named SPS foreman

The appointment of R.E. "Cotton" Boyce as general foreman for the Canyon district of Southwestern Public Service Company was announced today by Joe Gidden, SPS district manager.

Boyce joined SPS in 1948 as a groundman at Canyon. In 1951 he became a journeyman line-man and in 1953 moved to Pampa as a working foreman. He became the manager for SPS at Groom in 1962 and was named the manager at Boise City, Oklahoma, in 1972.

A native of Portales, New Mexico, Boyce attended schools in Canyon. He has attended the Company's supervisors conference, customer contact program, and vocational schools.

In Boise City, Boyce was the vice president of the Rotary Club and chairman and past director of the Boise City Planning Commission. He recently received the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" award for his civic activities from the Jaycees.

ONE MORE LOAD — City and county trucks dumped load upon load of fill dirt in the north section of Southeast Park Tuesday afternoon.

City park gets county dirt

The big news for Tuesday was dirt — lots of it.

Three county and two city trucks made numerous trips between Hunsley Road and Southeast Park to transport as much fill dirt as possible.

The county is lowering the bar ditches on Hunsley Road to improve drainage and offered the dirt to the city.

The city, looking for fill for the lake area in the north part of Southeast Park, was pleased with the offer.

Kevin P. Evans, administrative assistant to the city manager, said, "We need all the dirt we can get. If we have enough to fill the lake, we'll use it (the remainder) to fill the lagoon."

However, Evans was fairly certain there would not be that much of the dirt.

The city hopes to have enough to fill in the portion of the lake between the north fence and the city sewer plant.

Later, probably after the lake has had more time to dry up, the dirt will be bulldozed into it.

It appears things are moving faster for the park project.

Evans received a survey of the land to be included in the park from Canyon surveyor John Dorsey Tuesday afternoon.

He took the completed results of the survey to Sander Nagy, retired parks planner of Amarillo, who is working up the master plan of the park, and Bill McMorris, engineer for the project.

Area residents gain from social security

Social security benefits were being paid to residents of Randall County at a rate of $796,945 a month at the start of 1976, according to Jim Talbot, social security manager in Amarillo.

Of the 4,328 social security beneficiaries living in Randall 2,804 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 641 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 883 are getting benefits as disabled workers or their dependents.

In Randall County, 1,558 people under age 65 and 2,770 people age 65 and over are receiving monthly social security benefits. Of total beneficiaries 1,404 are men, 2,233 are women, and 691 are children. The children receive payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

WHAT IS COLIC?

Colic is a term applied to episodes of fitful crying, tightly pulling the legs against the abdomen, passage of gas and the fretfulness that some babies exhibit. There is no single definite cause for colic.

Improper burping, a milk allergy, even tenseness in the mother can cause the problem. Sometimes it is necessary for a physician to prescribe one of several drug products that can help give relief.

4H: Electric camps fill summer

BY PAUL SAMMONS
Assistant County Agent

As you all can pretty well tell I haven't been around this summer very much. I am really glad to be back.

Congratulations to Miss Gay Barnes for qualifying for the State 4-H Horse Show in Amarillo. She did a real good job! Be sure and tell her so the next time you see her!

Brownwood and Electric Camps were a huge success. I feel everyone enjoyed them. We all learned lots. Those attending Electric Camp were: Mrs. Wendell Trammell, Ronda Davis, Debbie Dettin, Hilda Hartman, Larry Hales and Michel Carthel. These people were responsible for conducting a

Slide program

open to public

Dr. Pete Petersen, history department instructor for West Texas State University, will be presenting a program of slides on Scandinavia, Germany and Austria Sunday evening, August 22.

The slide program, open to the public, will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday in the St. Paul Lutheran Church auditorium.

Bradley baby girl is born

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bradley of 940 Columbine, Amarillo announce the Aug. 16 birth of a daughter, Mistie LaChelle, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby girl weighed 8 pounds, 11 1/4 ounces and measured 20 1/2 inches at birth.

The Bradley family includes other children including Arthur, Jr., 7, Nathan, 5, Clifton, 15, and Connie, 17.

The father is a boilermaker and welder. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Snider of Wichita Falls and Lottie Bradley of Sinton, Texas.

Culp gets doctorate

The Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine was received Cum Laude by Larry Wick Culp of Happy from Texas A&M University recently.

Culp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Culp of Happy.

He previously received the Bachelor of Science degree from West Texas State University in 1973 majoring in Animal Science fields. He received his degree from Texas A&M University in Veterinary Science in 1975.

While at WTSU, Culp was president of Phi Delta Theta national social fraternity, was a member of Alpha Zeta National Honor Society, Alpha Chi Honor Society and was named to Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities and was named as "Man of the Year."

At Texas A&M University, Culp was a member of the Society party at Electric Camp. I congratulate each of you on a beautiful party.

The Tri-State Fair is just around the corner. I have entry blanks, in my office for lambs, barrows, steers, and capons. These entries are due in the Tri-State Fair office by September 1, 1976!! Be sure and come to my office soon and get your livestock entered.

I also have entries for the State Fair of Texas in Dallas for lambs, barrows, steers and heifers. The steer possibilities will be looked at by Dr. John McNeill, Area Beef Cattle Specialist and myself.

As you have all heard by now Bob Robinson from Potter County will be the new county extension agent in Randall. We wish to welcome Bob to Randall County and look forward to working with him in the near future.

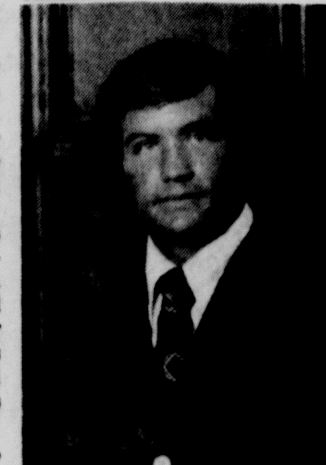

There has been a change on buying lambs. Bob Robinson will have a place to buy lambs sometime in October. We will discuss this further with Bob when he comes to Randall County.

I wish to commend everyone, involved with 4-H, for doing an excellent job in the 4-H program since I have been here. We can really grow! I can't do without your help and it is highly appreciated.

Have a nice week!

Happy news

Celebration's big day Saturday

BY MARY NEAL HENRY
HAPPY DAYS BEGINS
 tomorrow night with the first rodeo performance at 8 p.m. Then Saturday is the big day.

The parade with the theme "Spirit of America" is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. Games for children under twelve begin in the park about 11:00. The Old Timers' barbecue begins at 11:30 a.m. The public barbecue will begin at 12:00 noon.

Old Timers' Awards will be presented about 12:30 p.m. Drawings will follow the awards. Two quilts will be given away at this time. The Senior Citizens have quilted a quilt that will add money to the Memorial building in Swisher County. The Sunny Hill Home Demonstration Club has quilted a quilt to add to their treasury.

The beard contest will be judged in the park as usual about 1:00 p.m. The tug of war will take place about this time.

At 1:30 p.m. the horseshoe pitching contest will begin. All this time, little rodeo hands will be registering for the Little Britches Rodeo, which will begin at 3:00 at the Happy Rodeo Arena.

Several booths will be set up in the park. Rainbow girls will have their dunking board and fishing pond. CowBelles will have a dart throw. Future Homemakers of America will have a kissing booth where you can buy kisses for one dollar from a beautiful girl. They will also have a jail. (You can pay to have someone thrown in and they must pay to get out). Lion's Den usually have a ring toss. American Legion are newly reorganized. They may have something too.

The Happy Volunteer Firemen will be demonstrating a new piece of equipment called "jaws." This is a device which cuts heavy metal and opens up cars in which people have been trapped. It can also serve to rescue people from buildings in which they have been trapped. One demonstration will be immediately after the parade between the First State Bank and the Happy Hotel. Another will be at the park after the awards (or about one o'clock).

The Flea Market and Art Show will open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the usual 102 Main Street in downtown Happy. Happy Artist Studio have worked hard on their Flea Market and Art Show. Don't miss it!

Happy Rodeo Association will sponsor three rodeo performances, Friday and Saturday evening at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday afternoon beginning at 1:30 p.m. Charlie Thompson will furnish the stock. A trophy buckle will be awarded in each event.

The Happy Jaycees will sponsor an Open Steer Roping

Jackpot after the Sunday rodeo performance. Entry fee will be $150. You may enter on Sunday afternoon.

Western Dances will be held on Friday and Saturday evenings in the Happy Jaycee Hall. Music will be Tiny Lynn on both nights. SEE YOU IN HAPPY this week end!

THE NEW BUSINESS of Happy, the J Bar C Western Store, is holding its Grand Opening during Happy Days Celebration. Anyone may come in and register for the prizes which will be given away August 27th.

J Bar C Western Store will give away your choice of Men's Tony Lama Boots, a man's shirt, a boy's pants and boy's shirt, girl's pants and girl's shirt, and ladies' pants and shirt.

These specials will also be featured: $15 off every pair of boots; men's long sleeved western shirts at $6.95; ladies' pants at 30% off; boys' pants, regular $8 and $9 for $4.95 and $5.95; Justin roper boots for $39.95 and Justin boot socks two pairs for $5.

Come in and meet Judy Coombes. She tells me that she does plan to be open on Saturday, Happy Days. And the sale continues during next week also.

THE RECENT SWISHER County Play day placed three Happy 4-H members on the all-round list. Jacinda Stockett, daughter of James and Betty Stockett, won the all-round in the 0-8 year old group. Matt Hooper won the boys all-round in that age.

David McDonald, son of Bob and Linda McDonald, won the 9 to 13 age boys All-Round. Kenzie Littlefield won the girls.

Eddie Joe Pearson, son of Billie and Wayne Pearson, won the 14 to 19 boys all-round. Kathy Tucker won the girls all-round.

Jeanna Stockett won first place in the Trail Ride, but Jacinda took first in flag race and barrel racing. Michelle Holland (B.J. Holland's granddaughter) won the pole bending.

Angelique Henry won the barrel race in the 9-13 age girls. She had to run a second time to break a tie with Julie McClurg and she won. She was most pleased. She also won third in pole bending, fifth in the rescue race and sixth in the trail ride.

Neal Odum won the rescue race with the best rescue of the evening. He grabbed Dudley McClurg as he made a flying leap through the air and was able to hold on to him, turn, and ride home. Everyone inhaled deeply and held their breath. If I ever need rescuing on horse back, I'll know who to call. Neal also won the break away calf roping.

Ronnie McDonald won the tie down calf roping in the 14 to 19 age boys. It was a fun evening.

HAPPY COWBELLES MET with Mrs. Lonnie Todd on Wednesday of last week.

Melon balls, grapes, cakes, coffee and spiced tea were served to Joan Reynolds, Vera Eubanks, Modenia Rahlfs, Myra Nell Culp, Joyce Wheat, Doreen McPherson, Leona McFarland, Jeanne Johnson, Judy Thompson, Terri Pearson, Mary Johnson, Mary Neal Henry, Billie Pearson, Eron Jennings, Doris Foster, Delores Wilhelm, Nora Taylor and the hostess, LaNelle Todd.

President LaNelle Todd called the meeting to order. She welcomed our new members.

Joan Reynolds presented the Beef for Father's Day report. Best wishes for Father's Day were sent to some of our staunch supporters. Several information articles had been printed in the Canyon News. And there were many ads.

LaNelle Todd gave the report of the beef display in an Amarillo Mall during the middle of July. It was most successful in the promotion of beef.

Mary Neal Henry presented a report of the Mid-Year meeting of the American National CowBelles in Denver and some of the recent beef promotions that are taking place.

Delores Wilhelm reported on the parade float.

Mary Johnson reported on the dart game throw for the Happy Days celebration. Beef Gift Certificates will again be given away.

The nominating committee will be elected at the next meeting. The hostess will be Mrs. Roy Bryan.

Beef Buttons were passed to everyone to sell for $1. These buttons say "Keep Beef King" and are the cattlemen's way of financing their own referendum. We are the first agriculture group in history to ever have to put up a bond to finance our own referendum. So dig out your wallet if you are one that benefits from these beef dollars and buy your beef button. Then wear it to show that you support the beef industry. (And if you aren't wearing yours, you may be approached to buy another one).

THE TRI STATE High School Rodeo Club met recently to elect officers.

Officers elected for the coming year are: President, Eddie Joe Pearson; Vice President, Russell Bowman; Secretary-Treasurer, Sheila Kiker.

Wayne Pearson then appointed the sponsors. They are the Wayne Pearsons, the Floyd Tipps, the Bob McDonalds, and Dr. and Mrs. James Tucker.

OUR SYMPATHY TO Doreen Cox on the death of her father. The Bernard's have been long time residents of the Canyon area.

J.D. PAIR of Downey, California (Los Angeles area) arrived in Amarillo at 12:24 a.m. Monday morning on a Frontier flight after the Continental Flight that was to bring him at 8:44 p.m. on Sunday was first postponed to 9:05 p.m. and announced cancelled at 9:10 p.m.

I suggest that these "accommodating people" could have made that same announcement thirty minutes earlier. Uncle J.D. is mother's brother.

ANDY HARRIS OF Cownton, New Jersey, (near Sharps-town) was a guest in our home August 5th. He is a friend who is traveling with Ken Henry. Andy's father is a rodeo producer in New Jersey.

HAPPY JAYCEES held a reception for the teachers in the Happy Park on Sunday afternoon. Soft drinks and watermelons were served.

Teachers present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Moudy, Connie and Billy Taylor, Coach and Tipton Vessels, Coach and Mrs. Tipton, Coach and Mrs. Hunter, Karleen Moore, Mallie and Branch Sheets, Sherry McDowell, Ruth Sims, Jane and Ross Forsythe, Sibyl Gill, Mary and Boots McBroom, Gail and Albert Null, Fern Spear, Wanda and Bruce Winn, Lonas and Moon Wright, Jimmie Pride (and I probably missed someone).

I was visiting instead of writing. And Mark Nichols and I were discussing the year's rainfall.

WE WERE EATING fish at the weekly fish buffet at Al's on Friday of last week and in walked Wayne Stribling of the West Texas Western Store of Canyon with his family and friends.

EVERYONE COME TO Happy this week end! And have a good day!

TEXAS season ends Saturday

"TEXAS", the outdoor musical drama which plays nightly in the Pioneer Amphitheatre of Palo Duro Canyon, will be closing out the 1976 summer season with the final performance set for Saturday evening, August 21.

Records show that the 1976 season has been a record breaker for the show which is now closing its eleventh season.

Other than providing an outlet for local drama and voice students of West Texas State University and other area colleges, the show is a definite asset to Canyon and Randall County bringing in a good portion of tourist dollars.

Funeral held Tuesday for Mattie Campbell, 82

(DAR), American Legion Auxiliary and the Randall County Library regional planning committee.

The family has requested that memorial gifts be designated to the First Christian Church building fund or a favorite charity.

Interment was at Dreamland Cemetery with local arrangements handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors. Pallbearers included Glen Carter, John Potts, James L. Crowder, Jr., Emory Crow, James L. Crowder and Clarence Eugene Thompson. Honorary pallbearers included Wes Kleinschmidt, Lige Frieze, Ela Morris, Louis Henders, Gus Miller and Bob Boling.

Survivors include two daughters: Mrs. Frederick (Martha Frances) Eckman of Bowling Green, Ohio and Mrs. O.H. (Jane) Buchanan of Oklahoma City, Okla.; and three grandchildren.

Recklings recuperate from summer accident

Sherry Reckling, 19, and her brother, Danny, 16 are at home now recuperating from a three car accident which occurred while the family was on summer vacation.

The Reckling family's vacation included seven persons and thus the group toured through Illinois and Tennessee in two vehicles. Sherry and Danny were traveling together in one vehicle when they were injured in the three car accident last Saturday in Nashville, Tennessee.

Sherry, who is a dental assistant with Dr. W.J. Wooten's office in Canyon, suffered a broken right arm and mild concussion in the accident. Her younger brother, Danny, who will be a Canyon High School junior this fall, received a cracked pelvis in the accident.

The two injured Reckling chil-

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, AMERICA. That's a loose translation for the First National Bank sign facing Umberger.

Sign attracts attention

In recent years, both visitors and Canyon residents have enjoyed an unusual sign on the highway just outside of town.

The sign, facing the local German community of Umberger, is written in German.

First National Bank in Canyon built it in 1968, according to executive vice president David West, who was with the project in the beginning.

It usually has a short saying or funny slogan and is used each year to advertise a Knights of Columbus festival.

West said that when the sign was first put up, the bank received a number of calls about the German used for the sayings.

Apparently, the German language has changed since World War II and the bank's use of one form did not match the translation of people familiar with the other.

The bank has been reprimanded by the public for putting incorrect grammar and misspelled words on the sign. Once, a WT instructor called to complain the sign was incorrect.

John Childs, public relations man at the bank, now prepares the slogans for the sign. He comes up with the slogans and has them translated into German.

Dr. Garrett Welch and Dr. Hubert Oppe, both of West Texas State University, provide the translations.

Childs said he generally tries to put the translation at the bottom of the sign in English, but it was inadvertently left out of the slogan that is up now.

The English was shown in parentheses on the plans for the slogan but was not included when it was made up. He noted that the bank has to be careful in giving directions to the sign makers to be sure that the slogans are punctuated properly.

A slight change can alter the meaning of the saying completely. Past sayings that have been popular include: "Drive safely and drink milk."

"Instant interest — greatest thing since sliced bread."

"Healthy and well-kept with corn-fed beef."

West said the sign that probably brought the most attention said "Think rain." It was put up during a long dry spell.

When Joe Friemel, Umberger resident who first worked on the sign, had his 78th birthday the sign wished him a happy birthday.

Umberger news

Students and teachers return to school

BY REBA RAE
THERE'S NOT TOO much going on around Umberger this week, about the biggest news is, that school has started for students and teachers alike.

Rose Mary Ramaekers will teach fourth grade at Gene Howe Elementary school in Amarillo and Sadie Brandt will teach L.L.D. and E.M.R. classes at West Central Elementary school in Hereford this year.

VINCE AND ROSE Mary Ramaekers have returned from Colorado Springs, where they visited Rose Mary's brother and family, the Tom Conrad's and her sister and her family, the Leroy Hoelting's.

They had reservations to go on up to Estes Park, but because of the floods in that area, they decided to go into Nebraska and Kansas, just to see the country side. Rose Mary said it rained on them every day they were gone, except the day they drove in home. When they got home, it had rained here, too.

STEVE BRANDT WILL be attending Texas A&M University, at College Station, this year.

WE'D LIKE TO wish Hazel Friemel a speedy recovery. She is a patient in Palo Duro Hospital, in Canyon.

A BELATED "HAPPY birthday" to R.D. Friemel, whose birthday was last Sunday.

WE HAD VISITORS from Sperry, Iowa last Saturday. Lewie's nephew and his wife, Joe Tim and Brenda Beckman came by and visited for a while.

THAT'S IT FOR now. Call me with your news. Reba.

Museum films free to all

A variety of films will be on the marquee for the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum's summertime film series on Sunday, August 22.

Show time will begin at 3 p.m. Showing will be "The Great Plains", "Nature's Strangest Creatures", "Webback Hound", "Wild Dog Family" and "Wild Cat Family."

Jim Johnson, tight end, catches a pass during workouts.

Trying to hold on to a pass is John Paul Lee, a returning starter from last year's team.

Steve Zanchettin, a running back, looks for the open field.

Bufs are back in town . . .

The 1976 football season for the West Texas State University Buffaloes is just around the corner as practice begins on August 23.

Coach Gene Mayfield will welcome back eight offensive and five defensive starters from last year's team who finished third in the Valley Conference with a record of five wins and six losses.

Mayfield said that he felt the offense was in good shape because of a number of players who have already played quite a bit prior to this season. One reason for his optimism would be the fact that the entire Buffalo backfield returns which averaged over 400 yards and 35 points during the final six games of the 1975 season.

One problem for this year's team according to Mayfield is the lack of experience on defense. He said, "We had trouble getting teams stopped and this causes us concern."

Mayfield said that he is counting on Greg Whetstone, a 215 lb. junior from Lawton, Oklahoma at center. Whetstone will move from a guard position he held in 1974. He laid out the 1976 season due to a knee surgery.

Other players hoping to come through are tight ends Anglo McClain (6'1", 210 lb. sophomore from Boys Ranch) and Frank Dudley (6'5" junior from Tempe, Arizona). Mayfield said that he feels like Mark Stewart a 6'1" sophomore who weighs 240 lbs. can do the job at right tackle.

Mayfield said that only "one defensive lineman returns from last year's team and on a four man front, we need three to come through. We have some possible help from some junior college transfers coming in."

A concern for Mayfield is trying to find an extra point and field goal kicker. He said that John Paul Lee and Eddie Richard will handle the punting. Lee will probably be the punter at the beginning of the fall since Lee is recovering from surgery.

Two returning linebackers will help the Buffaloes defense. All conference Jeff Nunn and second team all conference Larry Spears add experience to the team. Nunn led the team with 157 tackles last season and Spears was close behind with 130.

Both safeties from last year graduated and finding a replacement for these is an additional problem according to Mayfield.

The Buffaloes will have a number of new players who have been recruited for this year's team. Mayfield said, "Most of the coaches felt like they did a good job. Our major emphasis was on the linemen. I feel like we did pretty well, but we need to see how well they can do."

He said, "We took six junior college transfers last spring. So 24 will be brought in this fall which will be five from junior colleges and 19 high school players."

Commenting on this year's teams chances of winning the Valley championship, Mayfield said, "We've got a better chance to win this year than in previous years. This year I don't look for Tulsa to be quite as strong."

The Buffaloes open the season on Sept. 18 against Wichita State in a Valley game at Kimbrough Stadium as the first of an 11 game season which hopefully will end with West Texas State winning the conference championship.

Vacations and visitors keep families busy

BY JO FULKERSON
I, FOR ONE, have never been the type to absolutely say "stop the world, I want to get off." If I ever had been, the past week would have been the week to say it.

Isn't it awful how much faster weeds grow than tomato plants? Isn't it awful how full the laundry hamper is when you come home from vacation and unload the car? Isn't it awful after ten years of almost perfect behavior that the cat has decided to use your new couch for a scratching post? Isn't it awful that school hasn't started yet and the kids are bored stiff?

Well, all problems have a solution and I am sure next week will be a better one; here I am breaking a resolution that I made on my way home from Tucson to Canyon the other day — I wouldn't say anything bad about home anymore.

We didn't have the nice breeze we have here, we had heat you probably wouldn't believe, no moisture in the night air and not half the friendly folks we have here. At any rate, I am sorry I badmouthed anything about Canyon and HOME.

OUT OF THE hospital and recuperating at home are Pat Reed, Dan Hollifield and Bettye Medlin. Welcome home and stay well.

MRS. VI ROBINSON'S mother died Thursday morning at a rest home in Canadian, Texas. She had been ill for some time. Our special thoughts are with Vi at this time and with David, her son.

SEEMS LIKE SIX Flags near Dallas was a pretty popular place for vacationers, at least Siesta ones. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stockard and family visited there recently and Shawn has told me that he "rode everything almost."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warner also visited there recently and met their son, Harvard, and daughter-in-law, Cathy, for a sort of family reunion. Billie said that Marc and Rowena walked their legs off to the knees, but they had a really good time.

Visiting with the Warners this week to take in the circus was Walt's mother, (Abbe Gim, to the grandchildren). Abbie went home one day this week (Walt took her) and sent home loads and loads of fresh stuff from the garden which was shared with several of "us" here in Siesta. Thanks, very much.

HOUSE GUESTS AT the Fulkerson home recently were the Earl Trapp family of Tucson. Especially welcome were they since they drove yours truly home from the Larry and Judy Fulkerson wedding celebration in Phoenix on the 31st of July.

Earl, Sue, Beth and Moe and I toured a lot of the local spots in Canyon and Amarillo, the best of which included our own Museum in Canyon.

They enjoyed their few days here very much and wished to bottle some of this cool weather to take with them to their new home in Yuma, Arizona where Sue has accepted a teaching post at the Yuma High School.

MANY THANKS TO Monica Noel, special friend, who officiated for me while I was away gallivanting across the U.S. southwest for about a week recently. Her daughter, Barbara, has just returned from a two week stay in a summer camp and she is all tanned and rested, etc.

So rested, in fact that she took off for a week end at Eagle Nest, New Mexico. That's okay, Barb, school starts almost immediately and no more goofing off.

THE HASLEY FAMILY had their family reunion or family get-together and swimming party in the Siesta recreation area recently and reports are that they had a real nice time. Randy said the only problem that they had was that they cooked the steaks too long over the charcoal.

The Owens family held their family party at the recreation area the following week end and we hope they didn't cook their steaks too long also.

LARRY G. FULKERSON and Judith Ann Rumley repeat.

Band on tour

The Ottawa Illinois High School band is currently on tour of eight western states including a visit to Canyon as part of summer concert tour.

The band presented a concert last Sunday night at Canyon High School and they will now travel to Tulsa and through Arkansas before going back home.

Prior to the Canyon visit, the band had traveled to Des Moines, Denver, Colorado Springs and Albuquerque performing concerts.

John Kinnissos, assistant band director said that this is the 11th tour for the Ottawa band which has traveled 40 states including Washington D.C. and Canada in the last 20 years.

ed their solemn marriage vows at the Mesa, Arizona Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on July 31, 1976. The reception was held for them that same day in Phoenix, Arizona, and it was such a beautiful occasion, shared by many friends and relatives.

Just think, I am not only gaining a beautiful and sweet daughter-in-law, but also a spare bedroom. The newlyweds will be attending West Texas State this fall, and are at home in their new apartment in Canyon.

WELCOME HOME TO the Jon Hoffman's who have been on vacation.

Marty decided it was time to come home after spending the summer working on his grandfather's farm. He should be tanned and healthy and much versed in the problems of the farmer. We have missed Marty.

HAPPY DAYS ARE here again. Let's all go to the Happy, Texas, celebration this week end and help our neighbors rejoice in another good year gone by. Promises to be lots of fun and good fellowship.

See you there Saturday, August 22 for the parade.

CANDIDATE FOR GOOD

neighbor awards should be: Bob Andis, 207 La Fiesta; Mr. and Mrs. Buster Rice at 233 Loma Linda; and Walter Warners, 267 Loma Linda. Thank you for being good neighbors.

Tour group enjoys outdoor meal

Swedish meatballs and accompanying dishes were served Friday night to the tour group which has returned from a recent Scandinavian vacation with Mrs. Martha Goodman as tour guide.

Following the back yard supper, the group viewed snapshots taken by various members of the tour group along with slides of scenic Scandinavia.

Tour members attending were:

Miss Helen Madden of Memphis, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones of Hart; Mrs. Arlene McNeal of Hereford; Mrs. Inez Mills, Mrs. T.W. Whigham, Miss Anna Mae McCune and Miss Valice Bryan, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Donnell and daughter, Kristi, Mrs. Bonnie Hinger, Mrs. Donna Wilson, Mrs. Lois Prichard and Lewis Harvey all of Canyon; Mrs. Willie Wimberley and son, Bill, of Dawn and Mrs. E.E. Henson of Floydada.

Special guests were Norma Tomberlin of Hereford and Mrs. Treva Elliott of Winter Garden, Florida.

Mrs. Goodman's plans for the summer of 1977 include a tour of eight European countries next June. Those desiring to join the tour should seek further information from Mrs. Goodman.

Locals on Scandinavian tour.
